Solution Architecture:

The Educational Management System is designed to solve common administrative challenges in schools, such as managing student data, admission processes, and academic tracking.

This system uses the ServiceNow platform, which offers a low-code environment to build and deploy enterprise applications quickly and efficiently.

Goals of the Architecture:

- Provide a simple digital platform for school staff to manage student records and track progress
- Use automation (Flow Designer) to reduce manual work and improve accuracy
- Centralize data in one system for better control and quick access
- Ensure scalability for multiple schools or departments
